Collaboration: Yes, we plan to collaborate with various stakeholders to enhance the impact and reach of our project. This may include local businesses for material donations, community organizations for outreach and support, and potentially educational institutions for involvement in awareness campaigns or workshops.

Goals: We aim to be transforming old t-shirts into bags, we contribute to minimizing the amount of textile waste that ends up in landfills. Our activity provides an opportunity for participants to express their creativity through designing and crafting their own unique bags. y engaging in upcycling, we raise awareness about the environmental impact of textile waste and the importance of sustainable practices.

Resources: Since we have three groups, we need 15 volunteers in total, with five members in each group. We don't require many materials for this project. The necessary materials include old t-shirts, scissors, glue, fabric paint, staples, and markers.

Dissemination: We plan to do social media marketing and maybe community partnership. We will create posts on platforms like Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and Youtube to share details about the event, including date, time, location, and what participants can expect. Also, we will collaborate with local organizations, schools, and businesses to spread the word about the event.

Brief description: Our goal is to create bags from old t-shirts. The project will be divided into several activities to efficiently achieve our objective. One group will be responsible for collecting old t-shirts, another group will procure the necessary materials, and a third group will handle the design aspect. Bringing all these elements together will be a collective effort. By repurposing old t-shirts into functional and stylish bags, we aim to promote sustainability and creativity within our community while fostering teamwork and collaboration among participants.
